Impure Blood

Impure blood will always make you sick. You suffer from headache, great depression, indigestion, sleeplessness, a bad skin, extreme exhaustion, and you can hardly drag yourself about.

Read what Mr. H. J. Matthews, of Wellington, New Zealand, says about this. He also sends his photograph.
"I have suffered a great deal from impure blood, especially from boils on my arms and back. I felt weak all over and was greatly depressed. I began to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After taking only a little of it I felt better, and soon my troubles disappeared. I believe this medicine is the best blood-purifier and the strongest tonic that any one can buy."

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

There are many imitations "Sarsaparillas." Be sure you get Ayer's.

Use Ayer's Pills every time your bowels become constipated, or when you are bilious or have sick headache. They cure quickly.

SUNDAY DESECRATION.

Clergymen Protest Against Sunday Sham Battle by National Guard.

Honolulu, April 23.—At a meeting of the Ministerial Union last Monday, a committee consisting of Rev. Messrs. Muckley and Pearson was appointed to draft a protest against the desecration of Sunday last by the National Guard. Following is the protest agreed upon:

In making this protest against the proceedings at Kapiolani Park Racetrack last Sunday, we do not want to be understood as contending for what is known as the "Puritan Sabbath." Nor do we regard ourselves as possessing the prerogative to dictate how people shall spend Sunday. At most we can only advise. But when government officials and employees, as such, deliberately plan for, and engage in conduct that violates the sentiment and faith of a large and respectable portion of the citizens in regard to the Lord's Day, we feel that we are in no sense exceeding the bounds of propriety and are well within our rights as citizens, when we protest against that conduct.

According to reports, newspapers and otherwise, the proceedings of Sunday were a menace to the morals of our community.

Not that a sham battle as such is demoralizing. But its occurrence on a day set apart as the week for rest and public worship was dangerous and demoralizing, and an unnecessary affront to the people of Honolulu who hold the Lord's Day in high esteem.

By whose permission and authority the First Regiment and National Guard of Hawaii engaged in a Sunday sham battle we do not know, nor is it the purpose of this protest to point out. That somebody in government employ is responsible goes without saying. Somebody permitted the Lord's Day to be desecrated by a noisy proceeding that disturbed the peace and quiet of the day for many. The guardsmen partook of beer freely. All this sowed the seeds of disrespect for the day into the hearts of the young especially. Not only so, but created disrespect for law both human and divine. The proceedings last Sunday not only was essentially law breaking, but doubtless sowed the seeds that will ripen into some law-breakers in the future. If the government sanctions such things on Sunday, private individuals will feel encouraged to furnish and engage in Sunday carousals.

And it is not the point to say that those who believe a sham battle is wrong on Sunday are not compelled to witness it. What is the purpose of a sham battle? Evidently, so far as the public is concerned, its chief utility is entertainment. But granting that an occasional sham battle is necessary to the highest efficiency of the soldier, this very fact would make it seem unwise to command, or even permit, the guards to do arduous exercise on the usual day of rest. This sham battle was given by men who are amenable to the government. The National Guard belongs to those who object to Sunday sham battles as well as to those who do not. Our protest is against the government furnishing or sanctioning an affair that proves to be a Sunday entertainment that meets the hearty disapproval of a large portion of citizens and which occurring on the Lord's Day tends to develop disrespect for moral and civil law, and to lower the moral tone of the community.

The churches do not ask the government to furnish them anything on Sunday that may prove a drawing card. Non-Christian people have no right therefore to expect the government to furnish an affair on Sunday that is anti-Christian in its effect on the community. Why not hold it on a day when all who would like to witness a sham battle could do so without laying aside principle or suppressing conscience.

This protest is made by the Ministerial Union of Honolulu.

FISH OF GREAT LAKES.

A Great Supply is Overtaken by Greater Demand.

Superintendent Nevin's assurance that the Great Lakes are not being depleted of fish is welcome information, says the Milwaukee Wisconsin. His position at the head of the State Fish Commission gives his declaration acceptable weight. But there will always be a doubt as to the ability of the fish to keep pace with the ruthless fisherman, even with the help of the fish hatchers, who periodically launch millions of fry into a life that depends as to its length upon the ability of the youngsters to dodge voracious and cannibalistic members of their own family, and upon their luck, as they increase in size, in keeping out of the small-meshed nets that are set for them on the feeding grounds.

Milwaukeeans who recall the fishing of early days, when it was possible to catch huge whitefish in large quantities in the vicinity of Milwaukee, and when trout were brought in so freely that they could be purchased for a few cents each, will not be very readily convinced that the fish hatcheries can keep pace with the fish killers. The pound net was inveighed against for many years by persons who were ridiculed because they predicted that the traps would exterminate the whitefish, but the whitefish are gone, and the pound nets are responsible for their absence. Trout are not so plentiful as formerly, partly because of the greater demand for them incident to growing markets and partly because of unwise fishing. The fish are not given a fair chance. The meshes of the nets are so small that they hold fish of the small sizes that should have long leases of life for breeding purposes. A visit to the fish markets will convince any doubter that the fishermen of the lakes are too eager. Smoked whitefish that look like half-grown herrings can be purchased in Milwaukee. These fish could not be taken if the meshes of the nets were as they ought to be to give the fish a chance.

NEW YORK POSTOFFICE.

How Brainless Patrons Make Postmasters Life Sorry.

Postmaster Van Cott's telephone bell jingled the other day, says the New York Sun, and a man's voice at the other end of the wire complained to the Postmaster that a letter mailed the day before hadn't been delivered. It was sent from the lower Broadway district and was addressed to a woman on the West Side, the complaint said. He mentioned the place and exact time of mailing, but he wouldn't give his own or the addressee's name or residence. He was a business man, he said, and it wouldn't do. Besides the lady wouldn't like it.

"Well I'd like to help you," said Mr. Van Cott, "but I don't see how we can do anything unless we know the names."

"All right," replied the voice cheerfully. "Sorry to have troubled you." And Mr. Van Cott hung up the receiver with a remark to the effect that there seemed to be a few lunatics still doing business at the old stand.

Late the same afternoon the Postmaster responded to another telephone call. The voice this time was a woman's. A letter had been lost and wouldn't the Postmaster please find it for her? Then the voice mentioned the same time and place of mailing that the earlier complaint had.

"Certainly, madam," replied the Postmaster, in his sweetest tones, "if you will tell me your name I'll do my best to see that the letter is found and sent to you."

The Postmaster received a reply that almost caused him to drop the receiver.

"What's that?" What's that?" he demanded.

"I said," repeated the voice with deliberation, "Go to h—!"
